

LX COLLECTION

Quay Tower Notches Another Major Contract in Brooklyn

A residence at Brooklyn waterfront condominium Quay Tower is in contract with an asking price of $10.65 million, likely representing what will become the priciest condominium deal in Brooklyn this year to date. The 4,544-square-foot residence has four bedrooms, three full bathrooms, and one-half bathroom in addition to an entry foyer and mudroom. According to SERHANT.'s Q3 Brooklyn market report, the borough saw more than $1 billion in sales with an entry price point of $2.2 million in the third quarter. By comparison, the top 10% of sales in this period last year totaled just under $365 million with an entry price point of $1.79 million https://www.lxcollection.com/article/the-belnord-shows-off-ramsa-redo-miami-penthouse-will-seek-40m/?utm_source=lxcollection&utm_medium=email&utm_campaign=newsletter_lxcollection